

Economics

1. There are several excellent websites. Economicsonline.co.uk is good for research on market failure and has 10 hot current topics on the right hand side.
2. You should continue to practice past papers and look at mark schemes and examiners reports these are on the intranet. Under economics banner heading.
3. There are 20 key diagrams to practice and learn, 10 in lower and 10 in upper. These need to be drawn and redrawn on a regular basis.
4. Build a scrapbook of economic stories in the newspapers and on TV. Further details of our student work policy and expectations can be found in the economics handbook given out at the start of term
