

Philosophy and Religion

Study periods

You need to read widely around the topics studied. Use the library, internet, college intranet, departmental resources, newspapers, relevant TV programs and magazines. We will introduce you to some of these in the first few weeks.

'Philosophy Now' and 'RS Review' are two magazines which we have available in the LRC and online!

Don't forget to use the department intranet to help you throughout the year. It is new and we will be improving and updating it throughout the year. Any suggestions for improvement would be most welcome!

Revision techniques

- Mind mapping on poster paper and putting up on wall.
- Use post it notes to learn key ideas and put around the mirror you use most.
- Use studystack to learn key terms and ideas.
- Use AQA website to look at spec and past papers.
- Write as many exam questions as you can in timed conditions.
- Plan essays.
- Explain learning to others.
- Get another to test you on keywords, using keyword booklet.
